Snow Update 1/11/2012 06:20

Light snow beginning early this morning and continuing off and on through the day. Looks like accumulations will be light, but steady. However, at many sites, we may never reach accumulation levels that will trigger services. With foot and vehicle traffic during the day, we will see compacted snow turning to slippery conditions.

With this storm on top of the ice left over from the last little one, we could see some dangerous areas develop.

If you would like service before we reach your minimum specified accumulation to help prevent slippery surfaces, please contact us.

We will be inspecting sites through the day, but contractually we may not be able to service your site without permission.

Thanks,
