Snow Update 2/3/2012 06:00

06:00 /3/2012 Snow Update

We began services at midnight. Roads are terrible. As soon as the morning rush hours hits, our ability to move from site to site will be limited.

Winds are making things even more difficult.

School and business closures are starting to roll in... another sign of the severity of this storm. Predictions are on target and we are still looking to Saturday morning before the snowfall stops.

We will rotate staff and provide continuous service until then.
