Snow Update 10/26/2011 08:00

Lots of moisture but little accumulation, more or less what we expected.

We began services at 4:00 AM clearing stairs and north sides and are mostly complete at this hour.

Snow is expected to continue so we will monitor conditions through the day.

Trees seem fine for now. As the sun comes up, accumulation on leaves and branches should diminish. For now, I don't think we need to provide any service. If you would like us to come by to check your trees, please let us know.
