Snow Update 12/04/2011 06:30

Very cold with wind today. Please report any dangerous conditions. We will be circulating through the city inspecting sites during the day.

Forecast for tonight is a 90% chance of another 4"-8". The timing of this storm is still a bit unclear but it is not supposed to clear until noon Monday. We will have a better idea and a plan by late this afternoon.

I will be inspecting snow conditions this afternoon.

Tuesday and Wednesday will be sunny but cold. We will use that time to do some detail work, make sure snow piles are consolidated and snow storage areas are ready for the next storm.

Again with some sun during the day, melting and freezing can occur. Please be on the lookout for dangerous conditions.

Thanks,
