Snow Update 12/22/2011 0600

The storm and snow accumulations are as expected. Another 2"-4" is predicted for today. Snow will not end until sundown this evening.

We will be clearing snow continuously throughout the day and into tonight.

We will likely make another round on Friday checking for ice, wind blown snow, and clearing areas not accessible today. We may also need to move and consolidate piles.

No additional snow is in the forecast through New Year's Eve.
